

THE DAILY BEE. COUNCIL BLUFFS.

Saturday Morning, August 25.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES: By Carrier... 10 cents per week... By Mail... $1.00 per year.

OFFICE: 67 Pearl Street, Near Broadway.

Republican County Convention.

The republicans of Pottawattamie county will meet in delegate convention at the court house in Council Bluffs, Thursday, September 13, at 10 o'clock a. m.

The primaries in each township, unless otherwise ordered by the town-hip committee, will be held Monday, September 10 at 7 p. m.

MINOR MENTION.

See Joseph Reiter's fall goods.

Cheap Railroad Tickets at Bushnell's.

Dr. Woodbury's office is being rejuvenated by paint.

The supreme court meets in Council Bluffs September 17.

The lathers are now at work on the ceiling of the new court house.

C. D. Walters is now being congratulated because he has a new boy.

Brockett is brightening up the exterior of his Broadway establishment.

R. Morgan is being talked of by the republicans as the coming coroner.

The new powder house near the asylum is to be ready within thirty days more.

The bridge over Mosquito creek near the paper mill is reported as downed.

Mueller is making some marked improvements in the interior of his palace music hall.

Yesterday the water works company laid pipes connecting the Broadway and Main street mains.

Oakland avenue is being put in pretty good shape and is now one of the best residence streets in the city.

S. E. Maxon is now preparing a place for a fine residence to be built by Mr. E. Weis, near Hudson Everett's house.

William Duncan, of this city, has poured some of his enthusiasm into a campaign song, which has been forwarded to Governor Sherman.

Mr. Charles Palmer while driving along Broadway, was thrown from his vehicle, and though dragged some distance, escaped serious injury.

Rev. A. K. Bates, of Lima, N. Y., will preach in the Presbyterian church tomorrow at 10:30 a. m. and 8 o'clock p. m. Sabbath school at 12 m.

J. Y. Alle was yesterday fined for being drunk, he being the only drunk man in the police court for three days, that is, drunk enough to pick.

Arrangements are being made for the planting of two more posts of the Grand Army of the Republic, one at Emerson on the 30th, and the other at Neola on the 31st.

The case of Ed Lockington, charged with a grievous assault upon Mrs. Robinson, has been continued until the 26th. Lockington proposes to show that he used no force.

The women are evidently disgusted because there has been so little enterprise among the men that the police court has had only one trial in three days. Two women were picked up drunk yesterday.

The grand jury at Harlan has closed its labors, and The Tribune says: "Under instructions from Judge Reed, the jury was thoroughly investigated, but no reliable clue to any of the parties implicated could be obtained."

The circuit court developed little news yesterday, the equity case of W. F. Sapp vs. A. B. Walker and J. N. Casady being still on hand, and the dreary reading of the depositions and argument on fine law points furnished little of interest to the lookers on.

The city council will meet again next Tuesday evening. Will the aldermen then rescind the back pay resolution, or will they quietly let the matter glide along until the public has lost sight of the matter, and then slyly take their money?

It now leaks out that Benedict and Rankin, lately convicted of horse stealing, and sentenced to five years each in the penitentiary; had a plan all worked up for robbing a bank, and their arrest for horse stealing came just in time to nip the plot.

The Grantour implement company which has bought ground next to David Bradley & Co's. warehouse, on which to erect a large five-story building, has concluded not to commence its erection until next season, but it will be built then without a doubt.

Mr. Kempster, the very successful test medium (and others) will be at the public spiritual circles to-morrow (Sunday) afternoon and evening, to give convincing proof of the "Life Beyond." Place of meetings, rooms Nos. 4 and 5 Shuggart & McMahan's block, commencing at 2 and 7:30 o'clock p. m.

The sensational attack on Miss Beggs is still the theme of talk with many, but no new revelations are made, and doubtless will not be, as there is no clue by which to trace the mysterious visitor. The police do not seem to have any very great hope of ever finding out anything more about it but what they have already learned.

The managers of the coming fair and races are at it with their coats off, and if Council Bluffs don't have a crowd it is surely not because there is not a big enough show for their money. There are to be more and speedier horses than were ever gathered at any previous meeting in the west, and the fair itself is to be immense.

As had been predicted by all the Harmony band last night at St. Joseph's academy was a success. Early in the evening the band discoursed some very fine music on the streets and at the hall. The programme was very good and every one seemed to enjoy themselves. The orchestra was also members of the band, with the exception of Prof. Glenn. They furnished fine music. It is the intention of the boys to give a series of balls this winter, which, if they do, should all be well patronized.

There is trouble threatened about the grading of Sixteenth or Missouri avenue. The railway companies whose tracks cross the avenue will not stand it and propose to fight. The claim is that from a point at the east line of the ground occupied by the Consolidated Tank Line company, about two blocks westward, the avenue is not under control of the city, it never having been condemned for that purpose, but is still owned by private parties and the railways. It may prove interesting before the affair is over.

The mail carrier system is still much hampered in its workings by the neglect of citizens in having their correspondents direct to street and number; also by failing to notify the postoffice folks of their exact address. Many seem to think that "everybody knows where I live, of course," when the fact is everybody doesn't. The carriers are now distributing blanks, which those receiving mail are expected to fill out with the name, number of house, street, etc. A little thoughtfulness and help on the part of the public at large and each person in particular would help along the carrier system greatly.

Where They Are From.

The Cedar Rapids Republican has the following to say concerning the change in the proprietorship of the Ogden:

We are permitted to announce authoritatively this morning the lease of the Ogden house at Council Bluffs for five years, by Mr. B. Siloway, proprietor of the Northwestern hotel of this city. Mr. Siloway had been contemplating this move for some weeks, and having entered into a verbal agreement with John T. Baldwin, the owner of the property, some days ago, he left Sunday evening for the Bluffs, and on yesterday the lease was made out and Mr. Siloway was given possession of the house. This is the information received at a late hour last night at this office. By the leasing of the Ogden house no changes are contemplated in the management of the Northwestern hotel here. Mr. Siloway proposes to operate both houses, and does not contemplate relinquishing his interests here. Mr. Mark Doryee, who is well known in this city as the chief clerk at the Northwestern, will be the manager at the Ogden, and is now there to assume his new duties. He is well known to the traveling public, as he not only presided at the desk at the Northwestern for a long time, but has been chief clerk at the Paxton house of Omaha. He is popular with all and a model hotel man. Mr. Siloway, who has demonstrated his ability to run a first class house in this city, proposes to make the Ogden the best house in the Missouri valley will work vigorously to that end. New furniture is to be added, the house to be repaired inside and repainted and provided with many of the modern conveniences. We hope and are hopeful that the Ogden will prove profitable to its new proprietor and manager.

TRAPPED A THIEF.

The Young Gentleman from Denver Will Steal No More For a Time.

Frank Henderson, the young man accused for stealing a coat from in front of Spelman Bros'. store, was yesterday tried in the superior court. It was shown that he was seen walking up and down in front of the store just before the coat was stolen, and that soon after that he was at the Union Pacific depot, where he sold it to a young colored man for six dollars, the buyer paying him only a dollar down and the next day paying him enough more to make it up to $4, and then refused to pay him any more on the ground that he thought that it was not straight. The person claimed that he bought the coat in Denver, and getting hard up, sold it to the colored fellow. The court found him guilty and sent him to jail for thirty days. This may have a salutary effect on the gang who now are hanging about the town.

Bishop McMullen's Successor.

Considerable interest has been taken in the matter of a successor to the late Bishop John McMullen, of Davenport, Iowa, and especially among the Catholics of this city and vicinity, because of the fact that many of Rev. Father McMenomy's friends and admirers had thought that possibly he might be chosen, as he is a man in all ways meriting such a position in the church. A telegram from St. Louis states that a meeting of the bishops was held there Thursday, at the residence of Archbishop Kendrick, for the purpose of nominating a successor. Among those present were Lewis Maria Feuk, Leavenworth, Kas.; John Hennessy, Dubuque, Ia.; John J. Hogan, Kansas City; James O'Connor, bishop of Dibsion and vicar apostolic of Nebraska. Bishop Ryan of St. Louis, was present also, but had no vote, being only a coadjutor bishop. Archbishop Kendrick presided over the assembly. The meeting was held in secret session, and the names of the nominees will not be given to the public until after they have been passed upon by the cardinal prefect at Rome. It is stated, however, that the nominee will be either Father Brady or Hennessy, of this city, or Father Cosgrove, of Dubuque, Ia., but this is only rumor.

After His Brother's Murderer.

Prof. J. J. Slattery, principal of St. Joseph's academy here, is spending his vacation in St. Louis, his old home. An item appears in the papers of that city to the effect that he has at last succeeded in convincing the governor that the police there are making no efforts to apprehend John Flicker, the man who murdered his brother, Frank Slattery, about six months ago. The governor has now offered a reward of $200 for Flicker's capture, which will cause the police to take fresh interest in the matter.

If your children are threatened with croup or any throat difficulty, apply a few drops of Thomas' electric oil. It is the best medicine for the little ones we know of.

SHELBY'S SHERIFF. Judge Reed Declines That the Supervisors Make a Mistake in Removing Redfield.

Shelby county has been stirred up about its sheriffship. The board of supervisors last June removed C. C. Redfield from the office of sheriff and appointed T. W. Chaburn, who has since been acting. There were no charges preferred or trial had, and the change therefore left Redfield hanging on the ragged edge, and subject to suspicion of having been acting in some unseemly manner in his official capacity. This Sheriff Redfield did not propose to submit to and he determined to have the matter investigated by the courts. Suit was brought against Chaburn, the appointed sheriff, to show cause why he should act in that capacity. The matter was brought before Judge Reed this week and in deciding the question he said: That both the constitution and the statute provided that when an officer is appointed to fill a vacancy, "he shall hold his office until the next regular election, and until his successor is elected and qualified." That the section under which the board of supervisors assumed to act in this case and to remove Redfield only gave that body the right to remove for the cause that the district court could remove a sheriff, and that their action in this matter in removing Redfield without preferring charges and giving him notice and having a trial was without authority.

BRILLIANT AND GAY.

The Gathering at Judge James' Home Last Evening.

In response to the invitations issued several days ago, there was a large gathering of friends last evening, at the reception given by Judge W. C. James and wife and their daughters, Mrs. William V. Wood and Miss Kate Larimer James. One of the chief objects of the reception was to allow the many friends to meet socially Mrs. Judge Zeigler, from the east, who is their guest, an opportunity of which all gladly availed themselves. The reception was indeed a social event of much brilliancy and much enjoyment. Judge James' lawn and grounds are no very spacious, but they are as beautiful as any in the city, and last evening, with their special adornments, they were enlivening. There was a blaze of light from gas jets, headlight, and Japanese lanterns, while upon a platform, built for the purpose, a gay gathering of ladies and gentlemen moved gracefully in the measure of the dance, making the whole scene a fairly hard. The parlors, too, were thronged with guests, and the interior and exterior of the house presented all scenes of social enjoyment. Music, refreshments, in fact all the arrangements and in all their details, were such as to insure the enjoyment of each and every guest, and there was no lack to make the evening a most delightful one.

WINE AND WOMEN.

Council Bluffs and Omaha Both Represented in the Calaboose by Females.

The men are not alone in indulging too freely in the cup. Yesterday the female portion was represented at the calaboose. Officers Brooks and Barhyte had brought in on the night before a woman who gave only the name of "Allie," but who proved afterwards to be a Council Bluffs woman. She was shockingly drunk. She made a most disgusting appearance in the calaboose, stripping herself of her clothes and throwing herself on the floor, and lying there in a drunken stupor.

Worse and Worse.

The never-ending Rainer-Blackert case is still causing costs to be piled up with little or no result beyond the employing of the time of attorneys, and giving them a chance to spar with each other for fun. Judge Aylesworth yesterday dismissed the case brought before him, and immediately another case was brought before Justice Abbott. A change of venue was taken to Justice Schurz, who set the case for a hearing to-day, declaring that it would then be heard without fail. One of the attorneys suggested that the witnesses might not be on hand. "It don't make any difference whether the witnesses are here or not. I tell you the case will be tried any way, and disposed of," and the sturdy justice settled himself as though he meant it. It is about time that some judicial sat down on the business in just about that sort of shape.
